Safety Stepladders.

An English invention aims to provide security against liability to accident from the slipping of ladders. The remedy in this case is the introduction of a novel form of shoe suitably attached. It consists of a bracket which can be securely bolted to each side of the ladder, formed at its lower edge with a lug through which a hole is bored, a shoe being loosely mounted to this by means of a pin passing through it and the lug connection being so fixed that the shoe can easily swing. To the under side of the shoe a corrugated pad of rubber is fixed. The effect of this arrangement is that in whatever position the ladder is used there is always a grip upon the ground which prevents slipping, the freedom of the shoe enabling a ladder to be placed in almost any position without incurring the least liability of slipping. When desired, the shoe can be applied to the upper ends of a ladder, thus preventing any damage to the walls or the ornamental value. —New York Sun.

A Railroad of Curves.

The first railroad west of the Alleghenies was built from Lexington to Frankfort, Ky., in 1831. The road was laid out on a straight line, as is possible, but the curve of the earth being such that the road was in two straight lines for women and children, the upper for men, four persons being seated in each compartment. The cars were at first drawn by mules, but after a time a locomotive was made by a Lexington mechanic. The tender was a big box car and a hogshead was pivoted to the water which was drawn in buckets from convenient wells. In place of a cowcatcher there were two poles from the front of the engine sweeping the track. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Temporary Change of Lodgings.

At Monte Carlo a gambler had won the maximum at rouge et noir three times in succession.

"There's a fellow running off with a splendid haul of bank notes!" said a spectator.

"Oh," carelessly interjected the croupier, "that makes no difference to the bank. It is merely a bit of our money sleeping out for the night!" —Paris Petit Nicols

THE INDUSTRIAL CRUSADE.

Nearly eight hundred years ago an obscure man, who became known as Peter the Hermit, inaugurated a movement among the people to rescue the holy sepulchre at Jerusalem from the infidels. He went through Italy, France and Germany inciting the people to march to Palestine and drive out the Saracens. He preached with such effect that all other business was neglected, and in 1096 several large bodies of the rabble, without money and without organization, set out for the Holy Land under the leadership of the Hermit, Walter the Penniless, Gottschalk and others, and were destroyed by the Bulgarians, Hungarians and Turks. Eminent princes subsequently engaged in the enterprise and for 177 years war was waged by the Christians against the Saracens without success. In one of these crusades 80,000 boys engaged, and those who were not shipwrecked were sold into slavery by the Mohammedans.

In 1859 John Brown entered upon a crusade to free the slaves. With twenty-two men, seventeen of whom were white, he captured the United States arsenal at Harper's Ferry, where were usually stored from 100,000 to 200,000 stand of arms, with which he expected to arm the slaves. He entered the village of Harper's Ferry on Sunday night, October 16, extinguished the lights in the streets, took possession of the arsenal, made prisoners of the few men who guarded it, entered the houses of several citizens, imprisoned the owners in the arsenal and freed their slaves. The next day militia marched into the town and Brown and his followers were besieged in the arsenal until the arrival of a body of United States marines with artillery, and after a severe fight in which several lives were lost, Brown was taken prisoner.

Now, what is called the "Army of the Commonwealth" is being organized by "General" Coxey for a crusade to Washington. Thousands of men, some of whom have been unable to find employment and many of whom, according to report, do not want employment are endeavoring to reach Washington from various parts of the country. What they expect to accomplish by this crusade is not definitely known, even by the leaders of the movement. Congress cannot render them any direct assistance except possibly to furnish them food for a short time. They cannot remain permanently at the Capital and they will probably experience as much difficulty in getting away from there as they do in getting there. The craze seems to be contagious, however, and in many instances men who were employed and for the time making at least a living have joined the army. As the men commit no overt act the authorities cannot treat them as criminals and almost every community in which they are organized endeavors to get rid of them in the easiest way possible. The regiment which organized in San Francisco was provided with means to get to Oakland. At Oakland provision was made for forwarding the regiment to Sacramento, from which place it was sent to Ogden. The Utah authorities met the men at Ogden with an armed force, but supplied them with provisions pending negotiations for forwarding them over the Union Pacific or compelling the Central Pacific to take them back to California.

In Reno a detachment was being organized by Captains White and Hubert. The citizens supplied them with provisions, but intimated that they must leave town or disband. The leaders left, but their followers could not, or at least did not, get away yesterday, though they attempted to do so in a body, and as they are not likely to be reinforced here, they will be compelled to disperse and get out of the State singly or in small numbers as they came into it.

This is an unfortunate condition of affairs, but no immediate remedy has been proposed and none seems to be available. The leaders are determined to muster a force at Washington, and probably would not work if they had opportunity. If they are stopped by the authorities they must be fed, and as they are unarmed and generally peaceable they cannot be treated like an invading army and shot down.

LINCOLN'S PROPHECY.

A short time before President Lincoln was assassinated he wrote to a former friend in Illinois as follows: "I see in the near future a crisis approaching that unnerves me and causes me to tremble for the safety of my country. As a result of the war, corporations have been enthroned, and an era of corruption in high places will follow, and the money power of the country will endeavor to prolong its reign by working upon the prejudices of the people until all wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the Republic is destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxiety for the safety of my country than ever before, even in the midst of war."

Is that crisis which Lincoln saw with prophetic eye upon us? The money power is certainly endeavoring to prolong its reign by working upon the prejudices of the people, but whether it will succeed in destroying the Republic depends upon the success of that power in keeping the people divided by prejudices and minor issues is to be yet determined.

The Virginia City Enterprise, owned by D. O. Mills, is now endeavoring to make the people believe that they made a great mistake in electing Senator Stewart to the Senate and that they should make amends for the act by turning the State over to Wall Street. Though the task is herculean, Mr. Mills, it seems, has no difficulty in getting a pygmy to undertake to accomplish it for coin.

The Denver News says: "The only towns in Colorado that have gone Republican are those that have always done so—even in the People's tidal wave of a year and a half ago. When the Colorado goldbug organs claim Republican gains in the State, they either speak in ignorance or deliberately prevaricate."

The Solid South says because you have always voted the old party ticket that is no reason why you should continue to do so. The situation has materially changed. Look to the interest of the country and vote for the party that stands for justice and humanity.

Mr. Mills' Virginia City paper pretends to favor protection, but to furnish proof that it does not, dwells upon the fact that putting sugar on the free list reduced the price of that necessary article 60 per cent.

A RICH GOLD STRIKE.

Breckenridge-Pollard Case Drawing to a Close.

AN A. O. U. W. DEFAULTER.

A Lockout Ordered by Which Many Men Are Affected.

POLLARD-BRECKENRIDGE.

Attorney Carlisle Scores the Defendant. WASHINGTON, April 10.—Attorney Carlisle addressed the jury to-day in the Pollard-Breckenridge case. Continuing he said:

"I ask you to judge him only by what he has told you here on the stand. The father of a family, with eight children and a devoted wife, he tells you that he lived for nine years with this woman in calm, deliberate adultery, not giving way to a sudden passion, not led by misguided love; but lust, not love was the bond between them. During these years he was posing before the world as a Christian statesman, a man high in the counsel of the Presbyterian Church, giving counsel to saints and sinners, while his life was a lie. He asks you to believe him now on the ground that during the half dozen interviews with Mrs. Blackburn, a woman high in the standing of her State, who must have won the admiration of every mother's son in this box, he told to her and carried on a complicated lie."

After comparing the social position of the two principals and stating that $50,000 was little recompense for the harm done, Carlisle closed and Col. Phil Thompson faced the jury.

Destructive Prairie Fire. TOPEKA, Kan., April 10.—During the past three days the prairies in Western Kansas have been swept by fires. Many fences, hay and straw stacks and outbuildings have been consumed. In front of the wind the flames leaped ten to fifteen feet high. Several farmers barely saved their homes. They sent a courier to Ashtabula for help, where wagons were procured, loaded with men and barrels of water, and sent to the relief of the people. A strip of prairie two miles long by sixty feet wide was thoroughly saturated by the people who had come to the rescue with the water, and the fire was finally hemmed in.

An A. O. U. W. Defaulter. MARSHALL, Mich., April 10.—James Wood, Grand Receiver of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, has fled and is believed to be a defaulter for $20,000. Wood left here March 26, supposedly for Grand Rapids, and has not been seen since. When he did not make his monthly report to the order he was suspended, and his books are now in the hands of the officers of the organization. He has annually handled sums ranging from $200,000 to $400,000, and his chances for making a big steal have been excellent.

Strike at Cripple Creek. DENVER, April 10.—The greatest gold strike of the year at Cripple Creek is reported in the Caledonia. The mine is located with the vein, which is eighty feet wide. The lowest assay shows $9 to the ton; a half-ton assayed $400 to the ton. Several feet will run half that amount. Quartz streaks three to four inches wide will give as high as $1,000 to $1,500. The mine has been opened for two years, but attention has been called away from it and its richness was not dreamed of.

Men Locked Out. CHICAGO, April 10.—The lockout has at last been ordered by the Building Trades' Association for Thursday morning. The painters have determined that if the builders declare a lockout that all the men affected by it will refuse to pay rent during the continuance of the lockout. They claim they will drive property owners into the fight. The lockout is expected to affect 50,000 men.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

The Industrial Army is creating considerable excitement, and as usual there are differences of opinion as to the best method of dealing with it. Some want the army dispersed by force; others think the men should be arrested, while apparently a majority of the citizens wants to get rid of them without resorting to violent measures and advise them to leave town singly as they came into it. Yesterday seven of the men obeyed Horace Greeley's injunction and went west.

FAREWELL PARTY.

Friends of Mrs. L. J. Flint Present the Lady With a Handsome Testimonial of their Esteem.

The residence of Mrs. John Douglas on Chestnut street was the scene of a pleasant little social gathering yesterday afternoon, held in honor of Mrs. L. J. Flint, who is soon to take her departure for her future home in Arizona. She was the recipient of an elegant present, a mark of the esteem in which she is held by the ladies there assembled. The presentation speech made by Mrs. L. C. Booth was as follows:

"Mrs. Flint: It affords me much pleasure to present to you this little token in behalf of your many friends and well-wishers. A token this, not of remembrance, for we know well that the long existing ties of friendship and Christian fellowship cannot be broken in a fleeting space of time; may we fondly hope these ties may continue forever. This, then, is only a simple offering of our respect and love.

"By your uniform kindness, genial companionship and untiring zeal in the performance of every known duty, you have commended yourself to our affection and esteem, and endeared yourself in our hearts. We regret that we are about to lose you; but wherever your steps may wander in the labyrinth of human life, may you have the prayers, the sympathies, the best wishes of all those with whom you may be associated, and although you may gain many new friends, may the old ones never be forgotten. May the peace which passeth all understanding be with you and yours until we meet again, and the joy of meeting be the recompense of parting and absence."

This was followed with music by Mrs. Frank Lee, Misses Menown, Magill and others. Later on all present partook of a most excellent collation prepared by the hostess, assisted by friends, to which all did ample justice, although their hearts were somewhat saddened by the nature of the occasion which had drawn them together. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Flint, Guy Flint, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas, Mesdames Brown, Betchen, Clow, Chism, Ede, Finlayson, Howard, Hymers, Loder, Judd, Sample, Merklinger, McNeese, Mitchell, Painter, Peck, Snow, Scott, Misses Magill, Drummond, Rowland, Mrs. F. THE WOOLEN MILL MEETING.

A Committee Appointed to Solicit Subscriptions.

The meeting held at the Bank of Nevada last evening to consider the proposition to assist to erecting a woolen mill, was addressed by the Chairman, Mr. Bradshaw, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Westerfield, Judge Currier, General Powning and others.

Messrs. Haney and Smade proposed to furnish one-half the capital necessary for the erection and equipment of the mill if the citizens furnish the balance.

It was resolved to submit a proposition to the capitalists, business men and citizens generally of Reno to incorporate with a capital stock of $50,000, of which $20,000 is to be reserved for working capital, divided into shares of $1 each.

It was resolved that a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. William Thompson, A. G. Fletcher and Alvaro Evans be appointed to circulate the subscription list for signatures.

On motion the meeting adjourned until Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Carry the News Mary.

The question as to what the Industrial Army in this State shall do to become at once well-fed and prosperous is now solved. Let the glory rest with our "Water Cure" contemporary. Commenting on the Industrial Army it says:

"There are in this State thousands of acres of land which can be had for a trifle, and upon this land men may make a living if they will. We know a man in this State who in twenty years has not only made a comfortable living year by year, but he has increased the value of his property a little each year, so that now he is comparatively easy circumstances, while his family in case of his death will be well provided for. There is no need of any man in this State being unemployed. The Summer is now at hand, and work on the ranches will begin."

The Stricklands Discharged.

O. H. Strickland and wife, accused of murdering Mrs. Eggleston in Antelope valley, have been discharged.

The defendant had no counsel, Mrs. Strickland conducting her own defense and in many instances contradicted witnesses, when the testimony was really favorable to her, showing that she was not trying to keep anything back. After their discharge Mrs. Strickland cried and said she did not like such an ending of the case, that she wanted to be tried, and the truth got at, as the people of Antelope would still think she killed the poor old lady when she was innocent of the crime. They both gave testimony which was corroborated by other witnesses.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARMY.

It Falls to Get Away on the Cars and Will Disperse.

The Industrial Army stayed up all Monday night waiting for an opportunity to board an eastbound train.

The two officers, White and Hubert, who had been ordered to leave town before 12 o'clock yesterday, left for Wadsworth where they declared they would await the coming of the army.

The army yesterday morning boarded three freight cars on the second section of the passenger train which were filled with fresh fruit. About 65 men clambered up on top while the train was waiting and held the fort.

Supt. Whitely telegraphed to break the train and switch the fruit cars off. The train was uncoupled and after side tracking the cars near the cattle corrals, the passenger train backed up and ran through the town at the rate of about 50 miles an hour.

About an hour later a freight train arrived and executed a number of maneuvers to induce the army to leave the fruit cars and get on the train, but they were too sharp and kept their places. After waiting about three-quarters of an hour the engine backed up and coupled on the cars. The men kept their places and expected they would be taken out, but such was not the railroad company's intention.

Agent Field asked the Sheriff to remove them and Mr. Coughlin commanded them to get off the cars which they refused. District Attorney Currier then swore out a warrant for the arrest of the leader on a charge of leading a riot. He gave the name of M. Gorman and says he is from San Francisco. He was followed over to the jail by all of the army except about seven who stuck to the cars and went out with the train.

The army when it arrived at the Court-house was ordered to disperse by the Sheriff, who told their leader, second in command, that he would be held in strict account for any overt act committed by the army or its members. The leader said the army was one of peace and had no intention of breaking any of the city ordinances. That they were hungry and if the town would give them something to eat they would disperse this morning.

They marched down near the cattle bridge where provisions enough to last them two days were sent.

Preservation of Game in National Parks.

The California Academy of Sciences has taken strong grounds against the destruction of game in National parks. A circular issued by the Academy says the only herd of buffalo in the Yellowstone National Park, and the only colony of beavers in the same park, have been wantonly destroyed by hunters. The destruction of these and many other of our large and interesting animals is not only a loss to science and education, but it will be felt as a matter of regret that the game which is so desirable to preserve in our public and Government parks has not been protected, so that from these stocks distribution may be made in future time. The Academy of Sciences therefore most earnestly and respectfully recommends that the Government consider the propriety of placing all National parks under the immediate care, control and management of the Military Department of the Government, subject to such rules and regulations as may from time to time be deemed advisable and issued by the Secretary of War, to the end and purpose that the game now yet remaining upon such reservations may be protected and preserved.

That it is also highly desirable that such new and valuable birds and mammals as may be found suitable and adapted to the respective regions, should be introduced from other countries to our National parks, and be given such necessary protection as will enable them to multiply for useful and valuable purposes in the future.

It was also resolved that the Secretary of the Academy is hereby instructed to transmit a copy of these resolutions to each one of the Representatives and Senators of the Pacific Coast, and to the leading newspapers.

A strange disease is affecting the cattle in Osage county, Kan. The disease starts in the hoof of the animal, creating irritation. The entire leg soon becomes affected. The animal grows frantic, gnawing at the parts continually, and death results in a few days.

CONGRESSMAN NEWLANDS.

He Believes There Will be a Great Revolution in Political Parties.

The editor of the Silver State, who came from Winnemucca to Reno with Hon. Francis G. Newlands, interviewed the gentleman and says:

"Mr. Newlands will leave San Francisco on Thursday on his return to Washington, lay over at Reno one day and deliver an address Friday night. He will outline future party movements, party policies, new organizations and old party disintegrations. He believes there will be the greatest revolution in parties during the next two years ever witnessed in any age or any country; that the finger of destiny has written upon the wigwags of the two old party organizations, 'Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting.'"

The Dunphy Tax Suit.

The Eureka Sentinel says: "In the District Court on Wednesday last, Judge A. E. Cheney, presiding, the case of the State of Nevada vs. Carmen U. Dunphy, Jennie C. Dunphy and the estate of Wm. Dunphy, deceased, a decision was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $6,900 and all penalties and costs. The defendants obtained a stay of execution for ten days. The suit was for delinquent taxes for the year 1893, as equalized by the Board of Equalization of this county. The entire judgment amounts to nearly $10,000."

Lost a Leg

Blood Poisoned by a Slight Accident

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Purified, and Restored Health.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen:—Three years ago a file penetrated one of my legs just above the knee. I was some distance from a doctor and the wound was not properly dressed. Failing to receive the necessary treatment,

Blood Poisoning set in. I became so weak and my system so much run down that I could not turn in bed or help myself in any way. After seventeen months' confinement, my wife took me to Walla Walla, Wash. Here the surgeons amputated my leg half way between the knee and the hip. Following this my health improved slightly but shortly afterwards began to form on my body and caused me much pain and suffering. Several remedies were tried but did not give me relief. Finally Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and

I could see a change from the first. Gradually I have improved; I am growing stronger and the painful gatherings have disappeared and I am about cured of my
